Our Mission

The Montana Heritage Commission (MHC) preserves and manages historic resources in Virginia City, Nevada City and Reeder's Alley and promotes the appreciation of history through quality visitor experiences.
In 1997, the Montana Legislature purchased Virginia City and Nevada City from the Senator Charles Bovey family for $6.5 million.

In 2000, Reeder’s Alley was gifted to the state by Darrell and Kathy Guston.

Today the value we insure our properties and artifacts at is $47.98 million.

The Montana Heritage Commission takes pride in managing some of the most valuable and fascinating historic sites in Montana – Virginia City and Nevada City, plus Reeder’s Alley and the Pioneer Cabin in Helena. Our goal is to preserve and promote these sites while encouraging Montanans and our children to become excited about the rich history of this great state. Virginia City was the site of our territorial capital from 1864 – 1875.

MHC offices now occupy Montana’s Territorial Capital Building in Virginia City, Montana.
The Montana Heritage Commission oversees 276 heritage properties that range from the 1860’s to 1875 time period and 1.3 million Americana artifacts that reside on 1,960 acres making Virginia and Nevada City, Montana one of the largest historic sites in the United States.

Virginia and Nevada City are Montana’s number one state-owned tourist destination through collaborative efforts with the Town of Virginia City and private businesses. It is estimated that over 500,000 tourists come visit from Memorial Day to Labor Day each year. Our economic footprint is $74.6 Million that contributes to 1,226 jobs.

Investing in history pays for Montana!
